Introduction

This report presents awards granted to arts organizations, individual artists, cultural industries and community groups by the Alberta Foundation for the Arts (AFA) in 2010-11. Details on art acquisition (purchases for the AFA art collection made directly from Albertan artists and galleries), and contracts awarded to administer the Travelling Exhibition program (TREX) are also included. These organizations, individuals and groups contribute to Alberta's vibrant culture and enable Albertans across the province to participate in and experience all art forms. Given the integral role that the arts play in contributing to quality of life, the AFA is committed to supporting those who work to "raise the bar" in creating, producing, promoting, exhibiting and presenting the arts in Alberta and beyond.

The Alberta Foundation for the Arts is a crown agency of the Government of Alberta supported through the Alberta Lottery Fund. In 2010-11, the AFA awarded more than $26 million to arts organizations, individual artists and groups working in the arts through grants, acquisitions and the TREX program.

In addition to granting, art acquisition and TREX, the AFA supported the arts in various non-granting capacities, such as art commissions, maintenance of the AFA art collection, placing art from the collection in public spaces, supporting special projects, supporting Alberta Arts Days, staffing arts camps for Aboriginal children and youth, and other initiatives to support the arts in Alberta communities. For details on these projects, a copy of the AFA Annual Report can be downloaded from www.affta.ab.ca/publications.aspx, or an electronic copy can be requested directly from the AFA.

Funding by Recipient Type – Summary

The Alberta Foundation for the Arts distributes funds to organizations, groups, cultural industries, associations, libraries, schools, colleges, universities and individuals to support professional and community-based arts activities and development across the province.

Of the 1,234 funding recipients in 2010 -11, 536 were not-for-profit organizations. These organizations range from large professional arts organizations (including theatres, art galleries, operas and symphonies), smaller professional arts organizations, amateur and community-based groups, as well as service organizations supporting the arts or using arts activities as key ways to enhance and improve the services they provide to Albertans. Funding to these not-for-profit groups was $16,552,668 million.

Secondly, 34 businesses/corporations working in the cultural industries - including book publishing, film production, magazine publishing and sound recording - received support from the AFA valued at $1,184,398 million.

Approximately $2,325,790 was awarded to 312 individual artists in Alberta. The majority of these were awarded to individual artists through AFA project grants in dance, film/video, multi-disciplinary, music, theatre, writing and visual arts. These grants support creation & production, marketing and travel, research and training and career development. In addition, the AFA purchased artwork from individual artists or private galleries through their acquisition program.

Schools in Alberta benefit from professional artists working with students to incorporate the arts into key curriculum learning opportunities through the Artists in Education program. In 2010 -11, 214 schools across Alberta received funds to support activities of this nature. Further supporting the arts and creativity in educational settings, the AFA awarded 18 post-secondary institutions grants valued at over $1 million. Two libraries received $12,500 for arts activities in their venues.
